

The Changing Landscape of the Biotech/Life Sciences Regulatory Environment

We see what's coming as the Affordable Care Act unfolds and what the evolving regulatory environment portends for clinical laboratories, professionals, and the broader life sciences industry. To stay ahead of evolving risk issues, we invite you to a complimentary webinar on Thursday August, 16th at 11:00am addressing issues affecting clinical research compliance, including:

- Federal Sunshine Law implementation
- Emerging FDA priorities
- Evolving compliance strategies

Nelson Hardiman represents clinical research professionals, laboratories, and other other life sciences organizations in litigation, business transactions, and compliance matters, including HIPAA. We routinely assist providers in establishing new operations and in implementing regulatory compliance programs.
