

Nelson Hardiman is joining forces with the national, full-service business law firm, Leech Tishman

We are excited to share that, effective October 1, 2024, Nelson Hardiman is joining forces with the national, full-service business law firm, Leech Tishman – offering clients resources on the ground far beyond California in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York, Washington, D.C., Chicago, Wilmington, DE, and Florida. With this combination, our firm will have over 140 lawyers and more than 230 people in eight major markets across the country. With our entire team joining the combined firm, we will not miss a beat in meeting your existing healthcare and life sciences needs across an even broader range of services with an expanded national team of lawyers adding expertise in labor & employment, intellectual property, business restructuring & insolvency, construction, commercial litigation, real estate, and trusts & estates. Our new name will be “Leech Tishman Nelson Hardiman.”

Ask us for details or, for more information, please visit: <https://www.leechtishman.com/nelson-hardiman/>