

Attorney Tara A. Davidoff Elevated to Partnership

Top-ranked healthcare law firm Nelson Hardiman announced today the promotion of attorney Tara A. Davidoff to partnership.

“We are thrilled to welcome such an accomplished healthcare attorney to our partnership,” commented Managing Partner Harry Nelson. “Tara has an impressive background in regulatory and administrative law, as well as litigation. She possesses not only an extensive body of legal knowledge but has continuously made substantial contributions to our expanding practice.”

Tara Davidoff joined the firm from UCLA, having spent more than a decade as a member of UCLA's Technology Development Group, where she advised on medical research and development, drafting and negotiating agreements with biotech and pharmaceutical companies, and facilitating groundbreaking advancements. Since joining Nelson Hardiman, her deep understanding of healthcare legal challenges, data protection issues, and intellectual property rights has enabled her to provide comprehensive legal counsel and support to healthcare and life sciences clients, as well as foster key partnerships between academia and industry leaders. “Tara’s experience as a technology-focused practitioner in the life sciences/academia, as well as her experience as a litigator in public service, helps her solve some of our clients’ most complex problems,” commented Harry Nelson.