

Harry Nelson Presenting at the Family Office Investment Symposium

The highly acclaimed three day Investment Symposium provides ample opportunity for family office attendees to discuss the investment outlook for 2018. The Symposium offers you an opportunity to explore a wide range of investment vehicles that are gaining traction among significant family offices and provides you with concrete investment ideas that you may wish to consider as part of your own portfolio. The event also serves as a platform for Family Offices to discuss their challenges, their success stories, and how to continue their legacy.