

Katherine Bowles Appointed to the California Lawyers Association Health Law Standing Committee

Nelson Hardiman is proud to announce that attorney Katherine Bowles has been appointed to the California Lawyers Association Health Law Standing Committee. The Health Law standing committee is a part of the CLA's Business Law Section, a forum that informs members about hot button issues and recent developments in all fields of business law. The committee works to create an outlet to communicate about these issues with the general public, California Legislature, regulatory agencies, and other interested groups. Kate's in-depth litigation experience and her background as a Registered Nurse provides her with deep industry knowledge and expertise to contribute to the committee.

In August 2019, Kate was named to the Super Lawyers 2019 List of Top Women Attorneys and has been listed as one of Super Lawyers' Southern California Rising Stars for the past two consecutive years.

Nelson Hardiman is proud to see our attorneys take leadership roles in the healthcare community.
